 Decision: Approve with Contingencies

Notes:

Official IRB Letter to PI:

Dear Mr. Smith:

On July 12, 2005, the Mock Tribal Institutional Review Board (IRB) reviewed the research proposal entitled, "Pre-Diabetes and Diabetes on the Reservation: A School-Based Youth Screening Program." This school-based diabetes screening program is designed to identify youth with undiagnosed and asymptomatic diabetes at the Tribe. The screening will be conducted among six schools on the Reservation and involve grade 3-12. IHS will use the data to update medical records. The PI is looking to publish findings on the efficacy of school-based screenings for diabetes.

After review, the IRB approves the protocol with the following contingencies:

- Clarify the time commitment and resource requirements of the school(s). Address issues such as class disruption, impact on teachers, cooks, school nurse, and PE teachers.
- Address what will be done with non-Indian students. Will they be able to participate in the screening?
- If non-Indian students can participate, what will be done with their data?
- Clarify procedures for those parents/students who do not provide consent:
  - For parents/students who have declined prior to screening day, what happens to those sitting in the classroom.
  - For parents/students who to decline on screening day.
- Address procedures for addressing potential harms due to labeling. For example,
